A Collect

For the Sons of the Revolution

Thou who turnest the hearts of the children to the fathers, and hast declared that the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance, we thank Thee for the inspiration which called into existence the Society of the Sons of the Revolution; and the blessing which has hitherto attended it: And we pray Thee to continue to aid our Society in this and succeeding generations, in the pious work of perpetuating the memory of the sacrifices, and sufferings, and valor of our fathers, through which our priceless heritage was won.

And finally when we also shall have served Thee in our generation, may we be gathered unto our fathers, having the testimony of a good conscience; in favor with Thee our God; and in perfect charity with the world: All which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE SOCIETY
OF THE
SONS OF THE REVOLUTION
IN THE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT.

INSTITUTED MAY 24, 1893. INCORPORATED SEPTEMBER 7, 1893.

CONSTITUTION.

Preamble.

WHEREAS, it has become evident from the decline of proper celebration of such National holidays as the Fourth of July, Washington's Birthday, and the like, that popular interest in the events and men of the War of the Revolution is less than in the earlier days of the Republic;

AND WHEREAS, this lack of interest is to be attributed not so much to lapse of time as to the neglect on the part of descendants of Revolutionary heroes to perform their duty of keeping before the public mind the memory of the services of their ancestors, and of the times in which they lived, and of the principles for which they contended;

THEREFORE, the Society of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION," has been instituted, to perpetuate the memory of the men who, in military, naval, or civil service, by their acts or counsel, achieved American Independence; to promote and assist in the proper celebration of the anniversaries of Washington's Birthday, the Battles of Lexington and Bunker Hill, the Fourth of July, the Capitulations of Saratoga and Yorktown, the formal Evacuation of New York by the British Army, on the 3d of December, 1783, as a relinquishment of territorial sovereignty, and other prominent events relating to or connected with the War of the Revolution; to collect and secure for preservation the manuscript rolls, records, and other documents and memorials relating to that War; to inspire among the members and their descendants the patriotic spirit of their forefathers; to inculcate in the community general sentiments of Nationality and respect for the principles for which the patriots of the Revolution contended; to assist in the commemorative celebration of other great historical events of National importance, and to promote social intercourse and the feeling of fellowship among its members.

ARTICLE I.

Name of Society.

The Society shall be known by the name, style and title of "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION."

ARTICLE II.

Membership.

Any male person, above the age of twenty-one years, shall be eligible to membership in the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" who is descended from an ancestor, as the propositus, who either as a military, naval, or marine officer, soldier, sailor, or marine, or official in the service of any one of the thirteen original Colonies or States, or of the National Government representing or composed of those Colonies or States, assisted in establishing American Independence during the War of the Revolution, between the 19th day of April, 1775, when hostilities commenced, and the 19th day of April, 1783, when they were ordered to cease.

Provided: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor in the "minute men," or "militia," it must be satisfactorily shown that such ancestor was actually called into the service of the State or United States, and performed garrison or field duty; and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as a "sailor" or

“ marine ” it must in like manner be shown that such service was other than shore duty and regularly performed in the Continental Navy, or the Navy of one of the original thirteen States, or on an armed vessel, other than a merchant ship which sailed under letters of marque and reprisal, and that such ancestor of the applicant was duly enrolled in the ship’s company, either as an officer, seaman, or otherwise than as a passenger: and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as an “ official ” such service must have been performed in the civil service of the United States, or of one of the thirteen original States, and must have been sufficiently important in character to have rendered the official specially liable to arrest and imprisonment, the same as a combatant, if captured by the enemy, as well as liable to conviction of treason against the Government of Great Britain.

Service in the ordinary duties of a civil office, the performance of which did not particularly and effectively aid the American Cause, shall not constitute eligibility.

In the construction of this article, the Volunteer Aides de Camp of General Officers in Continental Service, who were duly announced as such, and who actually served in the field during a campaign, shall be comprehended as having performed qualifying service.

The civil officials and military forces of the State of Vermont, during the War of the Revolution, shall also be comprehended in the same manner as if they had belonged to one of the thirteen original States.

No service of an ancestor shall be deemed as qualifying service for membership in the “ SONS OF THE REVOLUTION ” where such ancestor, after assisting in the cause of American Independence, shall have subsequently either adhered to the enemy, or failed to maintain an honorable record throughout the War of the Revolution.

No person shall be admitted unless he be eligible under one of the provisions of this Article, nor unless he be of good moral character and be judged worthy of becoming a member.

ARTICLE III.

Officers.

The officers of the Society of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, a Registrar, and a Chaplain, who shall be chosen by ballot at every annual meeting from among the members thereof.

ARTICLE IV.

Board of Managers.

The Board of Managers of the Society shall be fifteen, namely: the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary, the Treasurer, the Registrar, and the Chaplain, ex officio, and nine others who shall be chosen by ballot at every annual meeting from among the members of the Society.

ARTICLE V.

Admission of Members.

Every application for membership shall be made in writing, subscribed by the applicant, and approved by two members over their signatures. Applications shall contain, or be accompanied by, proof of eligibility, and such applications and proofs shall be submitted to the Board of Managers, who shall have full power to determine the qualifications of the applicant.

Payment of the initiation fee and subscription to the declaration required by the Constitution of this Society shall be a pre-requisite of membership.

ARTICLE VI.

Declaration.

Every member shall declare upon honor that he will endeavor to promote the purposes of this Institution and observe the "Constitution" and "By-laws" of this Society, and, if he be a citizen of the United States, shall declare that he will support the Constitution of the United States. Such declaration shall be in writing, and subscribed by the member making it.

ARTICLE VII.

Institution Considered.

At every meeting the purposes of the Institution will be fully considered and the best measures to promote them adopted. No question, however, involving the party politics of the day within the United States shall ever be discussed or considered in any meeting of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION."

ARTICLE VIII.

Commemorations.

It shall be a standing Regulation that the members shall, when practicable, hold a commemorative celebration and dine together at least once every year.

ARTICLE IX.

Seal.

The seal of the Society of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" shall be one and seven-eighths of an inch in diameter, and shall consist of the figure of a "Minute-man" in Continental uniform, standing on a ladder leading to a belfry, and holding in his left hand a musket and an olive branch, and grasping in his right hand a bell rope. Above, the cracked "Liberty bell;" issuing therefrom a ribbon, bearing the motto of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION;" "Exegi Monumentum Ære Perennius." Across the top of the ladder, on a ribbon, the figures "1776," and at the left of the Minute-man, and also on a ribbon, the figures "1883," the year of the Centennial commemoration of the permanent evacuation by the British army of American territory; the whole encircled by a band three-eighths of an inch wide; thereon at the top thirteen stars of five points each, and at the bottom the legend, "SONS

OF THE REVOLUTION;" the following being a facsimile thereof:

The Secretary shall be the custodian of the seal, which shall be identical in every particular with this description.

ARTICLE X.

Insignia.

The insignia of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" shall consist of a badge pendant from the ribbon by a ring of gold.

The badge shall be elliptical in form, with scalloped edges, one and one-quarter inches in length and one and one-eighth inches in width; the whole surmounted by a gold eagle, with wings displayed, inverted. On the obverse side a medallion of gold in the center, elliptical in form, bearing on its face the figure of a soldier in Continental uniform, with musket slung. Beneath, the figures "1775;" the medallion surrounded by thirteen raised gold stars of five points each upon a border of dark blue enamel.

On the reverse side, in the center, a medallion, corresponding in form to that on the obverse, and also in gold, bearing on its face Houdon's portrait of Washington in bas relief, encircled by the legend, "SONS OF THE REVO-LUTION." Beneath, the figures "1883," and upon the reverse of the eagle, the number of the particular badge engraved; the medallion surrounded by a plain gold border conforming in dimensions to the obverse, upon which members may have their names engraved in script.

The ribbon shall be dark blue, ribbed and watered, edged with buff, one and one-half inches wide and one and one-half inches in displayed length.

The insignia shall be worn by the members conspicuously and only on the left breast on all occasions when they shall assemble as such for any stated purpose or celebration. The badge shall never be worn as an article of jewelry.

The Treasurer of the Society shall procure and issue the insignia to the members and shall keep a record of all issued by him.

Such insignia shall be returned to the Treasurer of the Society by any member who may formally withdraw or resign or be expelled, but otherwise it shall be deemed an heirloom.

No member shall receive more than one badge, unless to replace one, the loss or destruction of which shall first be satisfactorily established.

On occasions other than the meetings for any stated purpose or celebration, members may wear a rosette of the prescribed ribbon and pattern in the upper buttonhole of the left lapel of the coat.

The Treasurer shall procure and issue the rosettes to members.

ARTICLE XI.

Alterations and Amendments.

No alteration nor amendment of the Constitution of this Society shall be made unless notice thereof shall be duly given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same, at a meeting of the Society, nor unless the same shall be adopted at a subsequent meeting, held at least thirty days after such notice, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present.

BY-LAWS.

SECTION I.

Initiation Fee, Dues, and Contributions.

The initiation fee shall be two dollars; the annual dues, three dollars, which shall be payable on or before the first day of January in every year. The initiation fees and dues must accompany every application for membership. The payment at one time of forty dollars shall henceforth exempt the member so paying from the payment of annual dues.

Any member who may contribute one hundred and fifty dollars to the "Permanent Fund" of the Society shall be exempt from the payment of annual dues, and this exemption shall extend in perpetuity to his lineal successors in membership from the same propositus, one at a time, who may be selected for such exemption by the Society.

SECTION II.

Permanent Fund.

There shall be a "Permanent Fund," to be derived from contributions, and to remain forever to the use of the Society, the income only of which shall be expended.

SECTION III.

President.

The President, or in his absence the Vice-President, or in his absence a chairman pro tempore, shall preside at all meetings of the Society and of the Board of Managers, and shall exercise the usual functions of a presiding officer, under general parliamentary rules, subject to an appeal to the Society in proper cases under those rules. The President shall be, ex officio, a member of all committees other than the Committee on Nominations. He shall have power to convene the Board of Managers and appoint the place of such meeting when called by him.

He shall also perform such other representative duties on behalf of the Society, either personally or by correspondence, as it or the Board of Managers may find desirable or necessary, or as customarily appertain to his office, and he shall enforce a strict observance of the Constitution and By-laws of the Society.

In case of his decease, resignation, neglect to serve, or inability from any cause to act as President, the duties of the office shall devolve on the Vice-President until the vacancy caused by such decease, resignation, or neglect to serve shall be filled, or until the inability shall cease.

SECTION IV.

Secretary.

The Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society and keep a record thereof. He shall notify all qualified and accepted candidates of their admission, and perform such other duties as the Society or Board of Managers or his office may require of him. He shall have charge of the seal, certificates of incorporation, by-laws, historical and other documents and records of the Society other than those required to be deposited with the Registrar, and shall affix the seal to all properly authenticated certificates of membership and transmit the same without delay to the member for whom it shall be issued or to his proper representative. He shall also notify the Registrar of all admissions to membership, and transmit to him the applications and proofs of eligibility of all persons so admitted. He, together with the presiding officer, shall, when necessary, certify all acts of the Society, and, in proper cases, authenticate them under seal. He shall have charge of all printing and publications directed by the Society or by the Board of Managers. He shall give due notice of the time and place of all meetings of the Society and of the Board of Managers, and shall attend the same. He shall keep fair and accurate records of all the proceedings and orders of the Society and the Board of Managers, and shall give notice to the several officers of all votes, orders, resolves, and proceedings of the Society or of the Board of Managers, affecting them or appertaining to their respective duties; and at the annual meeting, and oftener if required, shall report to the Society the names of those candidates who have been admitted to membership, and also the names of those members whose resignations or voluntary withdrawals have been consented to and accepted, and also the names of those members who have been expelled or dropped for non-payment of dues or for failure to substantiate claim of descent. In his absence from any meeting, a Secretary pro tempore may be designated therefor, unless the Assistant Secretary shall be present to act in such capacity.

SECTION V.

Treasurer.

The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society; and as often as those funds shall amount to one hundred dollars they shall be deposited in some bank, which shall be designated by the Board of Managers, to the credit of the Society of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION," and such funds shall be drawn thence on the check of the Treasurer for the purposes of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums only as may be ordered by the Society or by the Board of Managers, and shall perform such other duties as the Society or Board of Managers or his office may require of him. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and, at each annual meeting, render the same to the Society with a full statement of the financial condition of the Society, when a committee shall be appointed to audit his accounts.

For the faithful performance of his duty he shall give such security as the Society, or Board of Managers in lieu of its action thereon, may from time to time require.

SECTION VI.

Registrar.

The Registrar shall receive from the Secretary, file and keep on record, all the proofs upon which memberships have been granted, declarations of members on admission of adherence to the Constitution and By-laws of the Society, together with a list of all diplomas countersigned by him, and all documents, rolls, or other evidences of service in the War of the Revolution of which the Society may become possessed; and he, under the direction of the Board of Managers, shall make or cause to be made for file in his office, copies of such original or certified documents as the owners thereof may not be willing to leave permanently in the keeping of the Society.

SECTION VII.

Chaplain.

The Chaplain shall be a regularly ordained minister of a Christian denomination, and it shall be his duty to open and close all meetings with customary chaplaincy services and perform such other duties as ordinarily appertain to such office.

SECTION VIII.

Historian.

The Board of Managers shall have power to appoint a Historian, who shall keep a detailed record, to be deposited with the Secretary, of all the historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society; and he shall edit and prepare for publication such historical addresses, essays, papers, and other documents of a historical character, other than a Registrar of Members, as the Secretary may be required to publish; and at every annual meeting, if there shall be a necrological list for the year then closing, he shall submit the same, with carefully prepared biographies of the deceased members.

SECTION IX.

Assistant Secretary.

The Board of Managers shall have power to appoint an Assistant Secretary, who shall assist the Secretary in the performance of such duties of that office as the latter may from time to time devolve upon him, and may, in such cases, give required notices and certify and authenticate, when necessary, any acts, documents, or records of the Society.

In case of the absence of the Secretary from any meeting of the Society or of the Board of Managers, or of his decease, resignation, neglect to serve, or inability from any cause to act in that capacity, the duties of the office shall devolve on the Assistant Secretary until the Secretary shall return, or until the vacancy caused by such decease, resignation, or neglect to serve shall be filled, or until the inability shall cease.

SECTION X.

Board of Managers.

The Board of Managers shall judge of the qualifications of every candidate who shall make proper application for admission to the Society, and shall have power to admit him to membership therein, if found eligible under the Constitution of this Society. Three negative votes shall be a rejection of the applicant.

They may, through the Secretary, call special meetings of the Society at such times as they may see fit, and they may arrange for commemorative celebrations by the Society.

They shall recommend plans to the Society for promoting its purposes, and, when practicable, may digest and prepare business for its meetings, and shall supervise all publications issued in its name, and decide whether copies of records or other documents or papers may be furnished on request of any party in cases not pertaining directly to the business of the Society and the proper conduct of its affairs.

They shall generally superintend the interests and shall have the control and management of the affairs and funds of the Society. They shall also perform such duties as may be prescribed by the Constitution and By-laws, or required by any Standing Rule or Resolve of the Society; provided, however, that they shall at no time be required to take any action nor contract any debt for which they shall be jointly or severally liable. They shall be competent to consent to and to accept the resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership of any enrolled member of the Society.

They may require the attendance of any member of the Society, or any official or committee thereof, at any meeting, for consultation and advice.

The Board of Managers shall meet as often as they may desire, or at the call of the President, or upon the written request of any three members of the same addressed to the Secretary.

A majority of the Board of Managers shall be a quorum for the transaction of business.

At every annual meeting they shall submit to the Society a general report of their proceedings during the year then closing, and at such other time as may be required by the Society.

SECTION XI.

Expulsion and Suspension.

The Board of Managers shall have power to expel any enrolled member of this Society who, by a conduct inconsistent with a gentleman and a man of honor, or by an opposition to the interests of the community in general or of this Society in particular, may render himself unworthy to continue a member, or who shall persistently transgress, or, without good excuse, willfully neglect or fail in the performance of any obligation enjoined by the Constitution or By-laws or any Standing Rule of this Society. Provided, that such member shall have received at least ten days' notice of the complaint preferred against him, and of the time and place for hearing the same, and have been thereby afforded an opportunity to be heard in person.

Whenever the cause of expulsion shall not have involved turpitude nor moral unworthiness, any member thus expelled may, upon the unanimous recommendation of the Board of Managers, but not otherwise, be restored to membership by the Society at any meeting.

The Board of Managers shall also have power to drop from the Roll the name of any enrolled member of the Society who shall be at least two years in arrears in the payment of dues, and who, on notice to pay the same, shall fail and neglect to do so within ten days thereafter, and upon being thus dropped, his membership shall cease and determine, but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Board of Managers on his application therefor, and upon his payment of all such arrears and of the annual dues from the date when he was dropped to the date of his restoration. The Board of Managers may also suspend any officer from the performance of his duties, for cause; which proceeding must be reported to the Society and acted upon by it within thirty days, either by rescission of the suspension or removal of the suspended officer from office, or otherwise the suspension shall cease.

SECTION XII.

Vacancies and Terms of Office.

Whenever an officer of this Society shall die, resign, or neglect to serve, or be suspended, or be unable to properly perform the duties of his office, by reason of absence, sickness, or other cause, and whenever an office shall be vacant, which the Society shall not have filled by an election, the Board of Managers shall have power to appoint a member to such office pro tempore, who shall act in such capacity until the Society shall elect a member to the vacant office, or until the inability due to "suspension, absence, sickness, or other cause" shall cease. Provided, however, that the office of President or Secretary shall not thus be filled by the Board of Managers when there shall be a Vice-President or Assistant Secretary to enter upon the duties of those offices respectively.

In like manner, the Board of Managers may supply vacancies among its members, under the same conditions and limitations; and in case any member thereof, other than an officer, shall be absent from three consecutive meetings of the same, his place therein may be declared vacant by the Board of Managers and filled by an appointment which shall continue in full effect until the Society shall elect a successor.

Subject to these provisions, all officers of the Society, and the members of the Board of Managers, shall, from the time of their election or appointment, continue in their respective offices until the next annual meeting, and until their respective successors shall be duly chosen.

SECTION XIII.

Resignation.

No resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership of any member enrolled in this Society shall become effective as a release from the obligations thereof unless consented to and accepted by the Board of Managers.

SECTION XIV.

Disqualification.

No person who may be enrolled as a member in this Society shall be permitted to continue in membership where the proofs of claim of qualification by descent shall be found to be defective and insufficient to substantiate such claim, or not properly authenticated. The Society, or the Board of Managers, may, at any time after thirty days' notice to such person to properly substantiate or authenticate his claim, require the Secretary to erase his name from the list of members, and such person shall thereupon cease to be a member: Provided, he shall have failed or neglected to comply satisfactorily with such notice.

Where the Board of Managers shall direct the erasure of a person's name for a cause comprehended under this section, such person shall have a right of appeal to the next annual meeting of the Society; but he shall not be restored to membership unless by a vote of three-fourths of the members present on that occasion, or at a subsequent meeting to which the consideration of the appeal may have been specifically postponed.

SECTION XV.

Annual and Special Meetings.

The Society shall hold an annual meeting at the headquarters of the Society in the Nathan Hale School House in the town of East Haddam in the month of June, 1901, and each year thereafter at the call of the Board of Managers, at which a general election of officers and managers by ballot shall take place.

In such election the polls shall be open one and one-half hours, and a majority of the ballots given for any office or for a manager shall constitute a choice therefor; but, if on the first ballot no member shall receive such a majority, then a further balloting, in such case, shall forthwith take place, in which a plurality of votes given shall determine the choice therefor. During any election the regular Order of Business may be proceeded with.

Special meetings shall be held by direction of the Board of Managers, or upon the written request of thirty members of the Society, at such time and place as said Board may direct. At such special meeting no business shall be transacted except such as shall be specified in the notice therefor.

One week's notice of time and place of annual or special meetings shall be given by mailing through the post-office in said city a written or printed notice to every member of the Society.

At all meetings of the Society the members present shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

The meetings of the Society for business shall be generally conducted according to parliamentary law and the following Order of Business shall, as far as the same may be applicable, be followed:

Order of Business.

1. Meeting called to order by Presiding Officer.
2. Prayer by the Chaplain.

3. Reading of minutes of prior meetings not previously acted upon.
4. Election of officers and managers, when necessary.
5. Communications from or Report of Board of Managers.
6. Reports of Officers.
7. Reports of Special Committees.
8. Unfinished business.
9. Written communications requiring action of the Society.
10. Specially noticed business.
11. Notices of motion for subsequent meeting.
12. Miscellaneous business.
13. Reading of the Preamble to this Constitution.
14. Closing Prayer by the Chaplain.

SECTION XVI.

Service of Notices.

It shall be the duty of every member to inform the Secretary, by written communication, of his place of residence and of any change thereof, and of his post-office address.

Service of any notice under this Constitution or By-laws upon any member of the Society, addressed to him at his last recorded place of residence or post-office address, and forwarded by mail, shall be deemed sufficient service of such notice.

SECTION XVII.

Recommendation of Candidates.

No member shall approve an application for membership in this Society unless he shall know the candidate to be worthy, and shall have satisfied himself by due examination of proofs that such candidate is eligible, and will, if admitted, be a desirable member.

SECTION XVIII.

Nominating Committee.

The Society may, at the annual meeting, choose a Nominating Committee, of nine members, to nominate officers and members of the Board of Managers, for election at the succeeding annual meeting.

In case the Society shall not choose such a committee, the President shall, prior to every annual meeting, appoint such a Nominating Committee of nine members from among the members longest enrolled as such, who may consent to serve on such Committee, exclusive of officers or members of the Board of Managers.

The Nominating Committee shall select and nominate a ticket of the names proposed to fill the respective offices, to be elected by ballot, which ticket shall be printed and distributed as the "Regular Ticket" at the ensuing annual election.

In order to secure as far as may be in the Board of Managers stability in procedure and familiarity with precedents in the business affairs of the Society, every Nominating Committee shall, in making nominations for the suffrages of the Society of members of said Board other than those who are ex officio members, so arrange their recommendations as to provide for the retirement annually of not less than three nor more than four of those who shall have served longest continuously on said Board, and for the continuance of a proportionate number.

SECTION XIX.

Decease of Members.

Upon the decease of any member, notice thereof, and of the time and place of the funeral, shall be given by the Secretary by publication, and it shall thereupon become the duty of the members, when practicable, to attend the obsequies.

Any member, upon being informed of the decease of a member, shall make it his business to see that the Secretary is promptly notified of the fact, which fact shall also, in due time, be communicated to the Society.

SECTION XX.

Certificate of Membership.

Every member shall be entitled to receive a certificate of membership, which shall be authenticated by the President and Secretary, and countersigned by the Registrar of the Society, and to which the seal of the "SONS OF THE REVOLUTION" shall be affixed. The certificate shall be in form following:

President of the Society.

SECTION XXI.

Marshal.

The President of the Society may, from time to time, in his discretion, designate a member to act, under his direction, as Marshal for the Society in its commemorative celebrations, parades, and other meetings, and to perform such duties as usually appertain to such a position.

SECTION XXII.

Alterations or Amendments.

No alteration nor amendment of the By-laws of this Society shall be made unless notice thereof shall be duly given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same, at a meeting of the Society, nor unless the same shall be adopted at a subsequent meeting, held at least thirty days after such notice, by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

INSIGNIA.

Authority has been given by Congress to the officers and men of the army and navy to wear the Insignia of the Societies of the Revolution and other military societies, and thus has given recognition to the following: "Society of the Cincinnati," "Sons of the Revolution," "Society of the War of 1812," "Axtec Society," "Loyal Legion," and "Grand Army of the Republic."

The joint resolution of Congress is as follows:

1. Joint Resolution granting permission to officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States to wear badges adopted by Military Societies of the Men who served in the War of the Revolution, War of 1812, the Mexican War, and the War of the Rebellion.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

That the distinctive badges adopted by Military Societies of Men who served in the armies and navies of the United States, in the War of the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, and the War of the Rebellion, respectively, may be worn upon all occasions of ceremony by officers and enlisted men of the Army and Navy of the United States, who are members of said organizations in their own right.

THE SOCIETY
OF THE
IN THE
STATE OF CONNECTICUT
1894
CONNECTICUT HIGH SCHOOL
PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

SONS OF THE REVOLUTION

CONNECTICUT SOCIETY.

To the Connecticut High School Scholars, GREETING:

The Society of the Sons of the Revolution was instituted in the State of New York, Washington's Birthday, 1876, and a national organization perfected in March, 1890.

The necessity for and the purposes of the Society are, as stated in the Constitution:

"It being evident, from a steady decline of a proper celebration of the national holidays of the United States of America, that popular concern in the events and men of the War of the Revolution is gradually declining, and that such lack of interest is attributable, not so much to the lapse of time and the rapidly increasing flood of immigration from foreign countries, as to the neglect on the part of descendants of Revolutionary heroes to perform their duty in keeping before the public mind the memory of the services of their ancestors and of the times in which they lived; therefore, the Society of the Sons of the Revolution has been instituted to perpetuate the memory of the men, who, in the military, naval and civil service of the Colonies and of the Continental Congress, by their acts or counsel, achieved the independence of the country, and to further the proper celebration of the anniversaries of the birthday of Washington, and of prominent events connected with the War of the Revolution; to collect and secure for preservation the rolls, records and other documents relating to that period; to inspire the members of the Society with the patriotic spirit of their forefathers; and to promote the feeling of friendship among them."

Its membership is composed of direct male descendants of ancestors who, either as military, naval or marine officers, soldiers, sailors, or marines, or officials in the service of any one of the thirteen original colonies or states, or of the national government, assisted in establishing the independence of the country during the War of the Revolution.

The various Societies have erected monuments on revolutionary battlefields, and placed memorial tablets on many historic houses, and the New York Society has erected a bronze statue to the memory of Connecticut's martyr patriot, Captain Nathan Hale, in the City of New York.

The Connecticut Society of the Sons of the Revolution would erect a monument to loyalty and patriotism in the hearts of the youth of Connecticut. Now, therefore, as an incentive to research in the country's patriotic history, and to give them a more intimate knowledge of our forefathers' patriotism, devotion, heroism and sacrifices,

The Connecticut Society of the Sons of the Revolution offers them a silver medal as a first prize, and a bronze medal as a second prize, for the best original essays upon the subject:

THE CAUSES THAT LED TO THE WAR OF THE REVOLUTION.

Competing essays are to contain not less than 1776 nor more than 1894 words—to be written on one side only, on 8 x 10½ paper with 1½ inch margin on the left—to be signed by a nom-de-plume, accompanied with a sealed envelope with the nom-de-plume on the outside and to contain the writer's real name, address, school and a certificate from the superintendent or principal that the essay is original.

All essays must be mailed in a "legal" envelope to the Secretary of this Society, before May 22, 1894. The Committee will receive the essays and the Secretary will retain the envelopes containing the writers' real names until the Committee has reached a decision, when they will be opened by the Board of Managers of the Society. The prizes will be awarded at the closing exercises of the high schools.

The Society suggests and authorizes for a committee of review and inspection, the principal and teachers of each competing high school, that only meritorious essays be sent.

The prize medal is silver, the face being a fac-simile of the seal of the Society, on the reverse an appropriate inscription with recipient's name. The medal to be suspended by a buff and blue (the Society's colors) silk ribbon, from a silver bar, bearing the word Connecticut. The second prize to be a fac-simile of the first in bronze.

The Secretary should be informed at the earliest opportunity the number of scholars in each high school who will compete.

Given at New Haven this twenty-second day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighteenth.

NATHAN HALE SCHOOLHOUSE

THE NATHAN HALE SCHOOLHOUSE.

1750 — 1907.

Headquarters of the Connecticut Society Sons of the Revolution.

During the 17th and 18th centuries there lived in the District of East Haddam, Connecticut, many of the good old New England families, whose members and descendants have helped to make the history of this ever progressing country of ours. Among them were the Atwoods, Barnes, Brainards, Bulkeleyes, Chapmans, Coles, Clarks, Champions, Emmonses, Tullers, Gates, Greens, Graves, Goodspeeds, Piersons, Marshalls, Nicholises, and Spencers.

Splendid farms were laid out, churches and schools were established, and manufacturing interests were being discussed, when the demands of the Colony called upon the heads of these families for their assistance in the protection of home interests and for the freedom from foreign rule and mismanagement — they responded nobly, as of a single voice — today we find in the Colonial and Revolutionary War records all of these and many other family names from East Haddam as soldiers whose endurance and skill as fighters and marksmen in ranks as privates was essential to its success as the cleverness and executive ability of those who filled every officership to that of Major-General.

About 1749-50 it became apparent to those families in East Haddam that a schoolhouse was necessary in that district, and through their influence the building was erected.

It is unfortunate that the town records do not disclose the names of the early teachers in that schoolhouse.

It was probably about the first of November, 1773, that "Nathan Hale" began his career as a teacher in that little building which was located at the "forks" in the road between Moodus Landing and Chapman's Ferry. For in those days there were usually but two school terms in the year — a five months winter term and a four months summer term.

Nathan Hale was then a strong, athletic youth of eighteen years. He had graduated from Yale College with honors and was well fitted for the profession he entered upon — but as he wrote his old college friend, Mr. Mead from New London, May 2, 1774, "he concluded that East Haddam was too inaccessible, either by friends, acquaintances, or letter," so he removed to New London, where he taught from May, 1774, to July, 1775.

Stuart's "Life of Nathan Hale, the Martyr Spy," contains extracts from a letter written by Mrs. Hannah (Green) Pierson, who knew Hale well when he lived in East Haddam, in which she says that "he was a happy and faithful teacher, everybody loved him, he was so sprightly, intelligent and kind and so handsome."

Judge Atwood in his Reminiscences said that, "he had it from the lips of a successful teacher, who taught in the same building twenty years later, that he received the munificent sum of four dollars a month for his services and boarded around, and that was the rate for teachers' wages in and before his time." Also "that tradition has it that as the usual time of school hours was from nine in the morning until seven in the afternoon, but Hale was such a favorite with his female pupils that they came at seven in the morning and remained until nine in the evening, bringing their lunches with them."

This building was used as a school until 1799, when another larger one was purchased, at which time Captain Elijah Atwood purchased the original schoolhouse and removed it to the north some one hundred yards, to a place just south of the old burying ground, and, by adding a little to it, converted it into a dwelling house. He lived in it until his death in 1816, from that time until 1899 it had always been occupied by his descendants. In 1850 it was purchased by Judge Julius Atwood. In 1899, one hundred years after it came into the Atwood family, Judge Julius Atwood presented the building to Col. Richard Henry Green, of the New York Society Sons of the Revolution, for the purpose of its being passed by him to Society Sons of the Revolution. Col. Green had the building removed at his own expense to its present site on the banks of the Connecticut river, just back of the old burying ground and the Church and transferred it to the New York Society Sons of the Revolution.

At a meeting of the Connecticut Society Sons of the Revolution held November 14, 1899, President Hon. Morgan G. Bulkeley read a communication from James M. Montgomery, Secretary of the New York Society Sons of the Revolution asking the Connecticut Society to accept this historic schoolhouse, wherein Nathan Hale had begun his life work, as a gift from the New York Society. The gift was accepted and a committee was appointed to form resolutions of thanks to the New York Society and Col. R. H. Green for their kindness in presenting the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse to the Connecticut Society.

President Hon. Morgan G. Bulkeley presented the Connecticut Society with eight acres of picturesque ground on the banks of the Connecticut river at East Haddam, which surrounds the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse and it has been converted into the "Nathan Hale National Park."

The formal acceptance of the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse and Park was held June 6, 1900, the one hundred and forty-fifth anniversary of the birth of Nathan Hale, when it became the Headquarters of the Connecticut Sons of the Revolution, where the annual meetings are held during the month of June. The ceremonies were combined with the Bicentennial celebration of the town of East Haddam, and the unveiling of a bronze bust of Nathan Hale by the townspeople to mark the original site of the schoolhouse when Hale taught in the winter of 1773-74.

The town exercises held in Goodspeed's Opera House at 10:30 A. M., consisted of Later Col. Richard H. Green gave to the Connecticut Society the old clock that stood in the house of his grandfather, Captain James Green, at East Haddam, during the time Hale boarded there while he was teaching. This gift the Society also values very highly.

In 1799 when Elijah Atwood purchased the building, he added that part under the low roof, and all that now remains of the original structure is the solid oak frame, the old oaken floor in the main body, on which the feet of Nathan Hale so often trod, the rafters, the roof boards and the old oak planking, which stand as a silent memorial to Nathan Hale, the Patriot Martyr Teacher.

MAJOR GENERAL JOSEPH SPENCER
1714 1789

The Connecticut State Legislature at the session of January, 1901, appropriated five hundred dollars for a portrait of Major-General Joseph Spencer, also fifteen hundred dollars for a suitable monument, and appointed the following committee in charge of the execution of this work.

John M. Holcombe, Chairman, Hartford,
Hon. Morgan G. Bulkeley, Hartford,
Wilson C. Reynolds, East Haddam,
Charles E. Brownell, East Haddam,
John B. Gelston, East Haddam.

A lineal descendant of Major-General Joseph Spencer, A. Cass Ledyard of New York City, contributed fifteen hundred dollars towards the monument fund.

The portrait was painted by Charles Noel Flagg of Hartford, Conn, and was hung on the walls of the Senate Chamber in the Connecticut State Capitol building in Hartford, Conn.

After the submission of plans from a number of monument makers, the committee selected the design of Stephen Maslen, Hartford, Conn., which is twenty-four feet tall, with a base seven and one-half feet square of Barre Granite. It has a large sub-base with a die and four columns, and an overhanging cap surmounted by a round column. This has a square cap with a large ball above and a bronze eagle over all; the likeness of Major-General Joseph Spencer in bronze on the face of the monument; on the reverse side the inscription. The monument was erected and dedicated under the auspices of the Society Sons of the Revolution in the State of Connecticut, in Nathan Hale Park, East Haddam, Conn., Wednesday, June 22, 1904.

The family records of the Spencer family of East Haddam, Conn., state that Joseph Spencer was born in East Haddam, October 6, 1714, and that he died there January 13, 1789.

He was the son of Isaac and Mary (Selden) Spencer of that district, and the great-grandson of Gerard and Hannah Spencer, who were among the first settlers of East Haddam in 1662 (Mss. Gene. Rec. of East Haddam families).

August 2, 1738, Joseph Spencer married Martha Brainerd, by whom he had five children; their fourth child, Joseph, became a surgeon and served as such and as aid to his father in the Revolution.

He married 2d, Hannah (Brown) Southmayd, by whom he had eight children (Mss. Gene. Rec. of East Haddam families).

Without the advantages of a liberal education, Joseph Spencer acquired that general knowledge and acquaintance with business which enabled him to discharge happily and usefully the various duties to which he was called.

March 14, 1746, he joined the church of the Millington Society, and was elected a deacon November 20, 1767. He was excused from such service during the Revolution; was re-elected April 4, 1788, and retained this office until his death (Statistical Account of Middlesex Co., p. 81).

The peace of Utrecht in 1713 put an end to a desolating war with the French and Indians, and during the next thirty years but few events of importance occurred in the Colonies. In 1744 "King George War" broke out between France and England, and at once brought the Colonists into hostile relations. At the time of the crisis in 1746-7, when the frontier line from Boston to Albany became no longer tenable, we find Joseph Spencer had carefully followed the situation; he had enlisted in the trainband, and on January 28, 1746-7, received his first appointment by the General Assembly, at New Haven, as Lieutenant of the company or trainband of the parish of Millington (Col. Rec., Vol. IX, p. 375).

A treaty of peace was concluded October 7, 1748. By its stipulations the British and French mutually gave up whatever territory each had taken, and the vigorous effort of the New Englanders, thus rendered useless (Garneau).

At the close of the war, Joseph Spencer turned his thoughts again to his home and the local affairs. He had been brought up under a strict religious discipline, trained to realize that the growth of the Colony, as well as his own possessions, depended upon his individual efforts.

The strong but loving influence of his parents was deeply impressed upon this young man, as is shown throughout his life; his spirit was never daunted, even under the most trying circumstances. He would never allow that the most difficult undertakings could not be accomplished; his failures spurred him onward and upward.

In 1750 he was elected a Deputy from East Haddam to the General Assembly and by re-elections, served the town at nearly all legislative sessions for fourteen years. He was also Deputy from that town at the October session, 1778. (Col. Rec. Vols. IX to XII, State Rec. Vol. II).

From the autumn of 1753 until his death he was Judge of Probate for the District of East Haddam except while absent from the State in the Continental service in 1776 and 1777. (Statistical Account of Middlesex Co., p. 81).

Then there arose the Seven-Year War, over the dispute between the French and English as to the ownership of the territory bordering on the Ohio; 1753 the French seized British traders and fort, which was followed by Colonel Washington's attack, capture of Jumonville and his men, the battle of Great Meadows, General Braddock's defeat, the battle at Lake George, the third expedition against Crown Point, in which the Virginia, New York, and New England troops all took part.

Joseph Spencer was deeply interested in the reports of the trials and sufferings of his countrymen, and increased the amount of his time given to local military affairs, and by his intense interest and devotion had risen from Lieutenant to Captain, and was appointed Major of the Twelfth Regiment of this Colony, in the Northern Army, by the Colonial Assembly, Thursday, October 13, 1757 (Col. Rec., Vol. XI, p. 68).

In March, 1758, as Major of the Second Regiment, and Captain of the Third Company, under Colonel Nathan Whiting, participated with his regiment in the invasion of Canada (Col. Rec., Vol. XI, p. 96), the expedition against Louisburg, Ticonderoga, and Crown Point.

In 1759 he received from the General Assembly his appointment as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Second Regiment, under Colonel Nathan Whiting (Col. Rec., Vol. XI, p. 226-354; Vol. XII, p. 249), and served as such during the siege of Quebec, and succeeding years until his appointment in May, 1766, Colonel of the Twelfth Regiment, during which he was also appointed a member of the Governor's Council (Col. Rec., Vol. XII, p. 459; Cyclopedia U. S. History, Lossing, Vol. II, p. 1330).

Colonel Spencer was elected an assistant in 1776 and was continued in office by successive re-elections until his death except in the year 1778 (Col. Rec., Vols. XII-XV; State Rec., Vol. II. He was appointed by the Legislature at the special April session, 1775, First Brigadier-General of the Regiments then ordered for "the safety of the Colony"; he was also appointed Colonel of the Second Regiment, and his commission was dated May 1, 1775. He marched with his regiment, by order of the Legislature, to the camp forming around Boston, and took post at Roxbury. During the siege of Boston he commanded a brigade of four regiments including his own with Parsons and Huntington, in General Ward's division at Roxbury (Conn. Men in R., p. 37).

At a meeting July 13, 1775, of Governor Jonathan Trumbull and his Council, his Honor the Governor laid before the Council a letter to General Washington, containing the following:

“ I have to observe to your Excellency, that the Honorable Congress have altered the arrangement of the Generals appointed by our Assembly. We wish the order we adopted had been pursued, and fear Generals Wooster and Spencer will think they have reasons to complain. They are gentlemen held in high estimation by our Assembly, and by the officers and troops under their command. There are reasons to fear that inconveniences will arise from the alterations, made by the Congress, in the rank and relation of those Generals; at the same time they have the highest sense of General Putnam's singular merit and services ” (Mss. Col., 5 series, Vol. X).

“ Two of the Council, Samuel Huntington and William Williams, were appointed to wait upon General Spencer at Gray's, the tavern where he had just arrived, and confer with him on the subject-matter of his dissatisfaction, etc., and endeavor to remove, etc., and reconcile him to cheerfully pursue the service, which he did accordingly.

“ In the afternoon of the same day they met again at the Governor's, where General Spencer attended, and had a long conference with him on the subject-matter of being superseded by the General Congress, putting General Israel Putnam above him, etc., which he thinks is very hard and results, etc., and is at length persuaded to return to the army, and not at present quit the service as he proposed.

“ General Spencer set out on his return to camp with the letters to General Washington ” (Am. Archives, 4th series, Vol. II, p. 1658).

June 22, 1775, Colonel Joseph Spencer was appointed Brigadier-General of Continental Establishment, by the Continental Congress, at the instance of General Washington.

General Spencer's Second Regiment was raised on the first call for troops by the Legislature in April-May, 1775, and was recruited mainly in present Middlesex County. The General with detachments of officers and men engaged at the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17th, and in Arnold's Quebec expedition, Sept.-Dec., 1775; it served until expiration of service, December, 1775, and accompanied the troops to New York, the next field of operations, and assisted in fortifying the city and vicinity.

August 9, 1776, General Spencer was promoted to Major-General of the Continental Army, and given command of a division composed of Parsons' and Wadsworth's Connecticut Brigades. He was present at Long Island at time of the battle August 27th, half of his division being engaged; present at White Plains October 25th, and on December 14th was ordered eastward, and took command in Rhode Island, which was surrounded by Admiral Sir Peter Parker's forces. General Spencer remained in command through 1777.

He organized an expedition of about nine thousand State troops against the enemy at Newport, and on October 26, 1777, attempted a forward movement, but the weather and failure of one brigade to report in time caused miscarriage of the plan.

Jonathan Trumbull, in a letter dated December 2, 1777, to General Washington, wrote the following relative to the affair: "The expedition to Newport hath unhappily failed. An inquiry hath been made into the reasons. General Spencer was exculpated. A Brigadier Palmer failed in his duty. The enemy were meditating an attack on Bedford, and had actually embarked troops, which were prevented by this."

General Spencer invited a court of inquiry and proposed another effort. Exonerated by the court November 15, 1777, Congress on December 11, 1777, ordered an investigation.

General Spencer resigned December 20th following, and on January 13, 1778, Congress accepted the resignation, "for the reasons offered by him in his letter of the 20th." (Copy of letter, pages 7-11.)

February 12, 1778, General Spencer was elected a member of the Council of Safety for this State (Vol. I, Rec. of State, p. 537); May, 1779; appointed First Major-General of the Connecticut Militia, succeeding Major-General Jabez Huntington, resigned (State Rec., Vol. II, p. 294) ; the same year was appointed Delegate to Congress by the General Court.

Thus it is seen that the eminent patriot General Joseph Spencer was engaged in the service of his country from as early as he was able to bear arms until he died at the ripe age of seventy-five years.

The letter of General Joseph Spencer to President George Washington and the Continental Congress.

DATED:

Providence Dec^r 20th 1777

Sir

Permit me to Lay before Your Honor, & the Honorable Congress a further Account of the difficulties, that have attended the support of this Army, and that still subsist here relative thereto — when I Arrived here the 1st of January last, and untill some time in August, there was in this State A Regulating Act, fixing the prices of the Articles Necessary to support the Army and while that Act continued in force, my Quarter Master was enabled by this State to take by impress such Articles as was Necessary for the subsistence of the Army, provided he could not obtain them by purchase at the stated prices: when I was informed that, that Act was Repealed on the 25th of August I made application to the Council of War, to know what provision was, or would be made by the State for the Supply of the Army, (as the Regulating Act was Repealed) in case the Necessary Articles could not be obtained by purchase at a reasonable rate, and not Receiving any Written Answer for some time, on the 12th of September I wrote again on the same subject, to the Council of War, a Copy of which I enclose, and on the 15th rec^d the Council's Answer a Copy of which I also enclose, by this Resolve of Council, my right to supply the Army with Necessaries by impress, giving the Owners a Reasonable price for the Articles taken seemed to be granted, provided I could not obtain them by purchase, but then the very difficult and important question, what was a reasonable price was left solely to me to decide, in this Situation I thought it would be the most prudent and safe way for me to Instruct my Quarter Master, to purchase what he could at the prices we had formerly given, and what he could not obtain at that price he must take by Impress, paying at the present what was formerly allowed, with Assurance to the Owners, that a Representation of the matter should be made to Congress, and that on hearing the case Your Honors would doubtless allow what was Just and right; on these terms the Quar^r Master supplied the Army untill the beginning of

Nov^r altho: not without some Complaint amongst the people; Then the Council of War Mannifested their unwillingness to have the Army Supply'd in any other way, than giving the Common prices to the Owners for them, and were desirous that I should take it on myself to supply the Army in that way, and run the risk of the approbation of the Accounts, which I declined to undertake, without some aid and Assistance from them, as it appeared to me that it was very uncertain, wheather we could long obtain Necessary Articles for any sum of Bills, as the contempt of them was daily increasing, and also I apprehended it was too dangerous a Matter for me to Risk the settlements and approbation of such Exorbitant accounts, as I must have to settle, if I supply'd in that way; The Council then by their Resolve of the last of October Ordered that I should be requested to give Orders for purchasing such Necessary Articles as the Army in this State required, at the most reasonable prices, at which they could be procured, and if their should be any deduction made in the settlement of those Accounts, the s^d State would pay what was deducted; since which the Quarter Master has supplied agreeable to the direction of said Resolve; The Quarter Master has given a list of the prices of a few of the principle Articles at which they have been procured since Oct^r, and also of the price they ware set at in the State Bill or regulating Act. which I enclose, Your Honors from This Representation will please to direct what further Allowance shall be given for the Articles rec^d for the Use of the Army, on the Conditions above Mentioned from the 15th of September to the last of Oct^r; the prices of the Articles procured for the support of the Army, being three or four times as much as they were untill the repeal of the Regulating Act, it now takes such enormous sums of Cash to supply a little Army, by reason of which and other disappointments, we are now reduced to Extreem want of Cash in this Army.—when I rec^d the Resolve of Congress of the 18th July, directing me to apply to M^r Hancock D.y. Pay Master for Cash; I imedeately made Application to him Accordingly, but by reason of one Obstacle or another, I have never to this time been able to obtain from M^r Hancock for the Use of this Army but about Twenty Thousand Dollars, and none until the beginning of Nov., which was brought by M^r John Adams M^r Hancocks Assistant, M^r Adams then informed me, that he would come again at any time that I should appoint, giving him a few days Notice, and that he expected soon a supply, of Cash, M^r Adams also desired me to give Orders to the several Commanders of Reg^{ts} to be ready with their pay Rolls at the time I set for him to come, and on the 16th of Nov. I wrote to M^r Adams to be at Providence the 9th of Dec^r for the purpose of paying the Troops and supplying the Army with Cash, I also directed the several commanders of Reg^{ts} to be ready with their Pay Abstracts, properly prepared to receive their pay as the pay Master would be here by that time, which preparation they Accordingly made, and several of them came twenty miles for the purpose of receiving their pay, and the very day M^r Adams was expected to pay the Troops, I rec^d to my very great and distressing disappointment, a Letter from him, dated the 4th Dec^r Informing that he had no Cash but what was needed at Boston, a Copy of which I enclose, since which I have Rec^d nothing further from the pay Master and I am at present put to Extreem difficulty for want of Cash, as the Treasury of this State from whence I used to borrow is exhausted, and I am informed there is no Cash to be had in either of the adjacent States, I have informed M^r Hancock that in my Opinion he ought to let us have a part of the Cash he receives, if there is not Enough for the supply of the Troops at each Department; could I have had had a reasonable proportion of the Cash, M^r Hancock has rec^d it would have given considerable satisfaction, but to be totally Neglected; unless there is more than is wanted for the Troops in and about Boston Affords us Just Matter of Complaint. — I Esteem it my duty as a Commander to give it as my Opinion to your Honors for the safety of this State in particular and the United States in General, it is Necessary that this Army should be more carefully attended to; there has been for a Year past a very Considerable Army of the Enemy in this State, the Summer past, and untill the present time — By indisputable Accounts, the Enemy have been 3600 Strong, Besides the Tory Troops, and Marines belonging to the Ships in the Harbour, with which they are near 4,000; there is now (mostly Arrived within a few Days) twenty Ships and Sloops of War, and 9 or 10 of them of the Line, the Enemy doubtless design to keep Possession of the Island of Rhode Island while the Contest Continues; they can make a very Considerable Army, with their Land and sea force, and it will be a Wonder if they should continue very Long without laying some part of this Country Waste, it will not give us Security that they will not for the future destroy any part of the Country, because they have done so little Mischief the Year past, they have doubtless several times heretofore had it in Contemplation to make a descent on the Main, but have never put it in Execution, in any considerable degree, once they landed in North Kingston with a party of 2 or 300 Men, but were drove off, without doing much damage, and we have full Evidence that a Considerable Number Embarked with a design to make a landing some where, but the place uncertain; on the Night of the 16th of Oct^r but hearing by a Deserter from us that Night, that our Army designed a descent on the Island the same Night, they disembarked, the Evidence of this we had not only from Deserters and Prisoners, but found a Return of 390 of the 43^d Reg^t that Embarked that Night on board the Ships, amongst the papers taken in the Syren Frigate, that run on shore at Point Judith. On the whole, I think prudence requires that an Army should constantly be kept up here for defence, of at least 4,000 Men, and this I understand has been the Opinion of a Committee of the New England States, that lately took the Matter in Consideration — the Army which has been here since may, in General Including Officers, and also the sick, on an Everage (without regard to those Call'd in Oct^r for the designed Expedition), amounts to about 2400 Men, as will appear by the Monthly returns sent to the Hon'ble Board of War by this Express — There is in the Army here at present about 22,00 Men 8,00 of them from the state of Massachusetts — and from New Hampshire 260 — the times of the Massachusetts and & N Hampshires are out the first of Jan^r. — the rest of this Army are of this State — Connecticut have sent none here (except those for the design of making an attempt on Rhode Island) since last May: the calls on them from the Westward & Northward and for guards on their own shores have been so great — The state of the Massachusetts as I have been informed Design to send 15,00 men, but I fear they will not be here timely, to replace those whose times are soon out — This State have Ordered in one quarter part of their Militia: but it is Esteem'd and indeed is Excessively hard upon them — They have paid their own Troops, Except about 500 from the beginning —

I beg to observe that from the above State of Facts, it Appears to me very Necessary for the support and Encouragement, of A Necessary Army for Defence to be kept up in this State — that a pay Master should be appointed to reside Constantly here: there would be a full Employ for one; and that he should be supply'd by your Honors Orders with sufficient Quantities of Cash, for the support and pay of the Army — as it is of greater importance to have this Army Encouraged and supplied, than one, more remote from the Enemy — Major Spencer who has served with me some time as

Aid-De-Camp will Convey this — to whom I beg leave to refer your Honors for more perfect Intelligence with relation to Matters at this Post. — he has an extract of the doings of the Court of Enquiry mentioned in my last, relative to the failure of the expedition formed Against the Island of Rhode Island, by which I think it appears that it did not fail by reason of any Misconduct or want of zeal in me. —

Permit me after Making the above Representation to Acknowledge that the Difficulties attending the Command of this department, Requires a Commander of greater Abilities, and in the Bloom and Vigour of life: and that I Earnestly entreat your Honors that such a person may be Ordered to Relieve me, and that I may have the Opportunity to settle my Accounts Relative to my Command: and have your Honors leave to resign my Office. — Your Honors will please to inform wheather I am intitled to the Allowance of a Separate Command or not.

I have the Honor to be with all due

Respect

Your Honors Most

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE GENERAL SOCIETY OF THE SONS OF THE REVOLUTION.

1911.

Done at the City of Philadelphia, on the 12th day of February, 1890, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and fourteenth.

Adopted in the City of New York, March 8th, 1890.

Section III amended April 23rd, 1892.

Section VIII amended April 21st, 1896.

Section VII amended April 19th, 1905.

I.

It being evident, from a steady decline of a proper celebration of the National holidays of the United States of America, that popular concern in the events and men of the War of the Revolution is gradually declining, and that such lack of interest is attributable, not so much to the lapse of time and the rapidly increasing flood of immigration from foreign countries, as to the neglect, on the part of descendants of Revolutionary heroes, to perform their duty in keeping before the public mind the memory of the services of their ancestors and of the times in which they lived; therefore, the Society of the Sons of the Revolution has been instituted to perpetuate the memory of the men who, in the military, naval and civil service of the Colonies and of the Continental Congress by their acts or counsel, achieved the Independence of the country, and to further the proper celebration of the anniversaries of the birthday of Washington, and of prominent events connected with the War of the Revolution; to collect and secure for preservation the rolls, records, and other documents relating to that period; to inspire the members of the Society with the patriotic spirit of their forefathers; and to promote the feeling of friendship among them.

II.

The General Society shall be divided into State Societies, which shall meet annually on the day appointed therefor in their respective by-laws, and oftener if found expedient; and at such annual meeting the reasons for the institution of the Society shall be considered, and the best measures for carrying them into effect adopted.

III.

The State Societies, at every annual meeting, shall choose by a majority of the votes present, a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Registrar, a Treasurer, a Chaplain, and such other officers as may by them respectively be deemed necessary together with a board of managers consisting of these officers and of nine other members, as may be provided by their respective Constitutions and By-laws.

IV.

Each State Society shall cause to be transmitted annually or oftener, to the other State Societies, a circular letter calling attention to whatever may be thought worthy of observation respecting the welfare of the Society or of the general Union of the States, and giving information of the officers chosen for the year; and copies of these letters shall also be transmitted to the General Secretary, to be preserved among the records of the General Society.

V.

The State Societies shall regulate all matters respecting their own affairs, consistent with the general good of the Society; judge of the qualification of their members, or of those proposed for membership, subject, however, to the provisions of this Constitution; and expel any member who, by conduct unbecoming a gentleman or a man of honor, or by an opposition to the interests of the community in general or of the Society in particular, may render himself unworthy to continue in membership.

VI.

In order to form funds that may be respectable, each member shall contribute, upon his admission to the Society and annually thereafter, such sums as the by-laws of the respective State Societies may require; but any of such State Societies may provide for the endowment of memberships by the payment of proper sums in capitalization, which sums shall be properly invested as a permanent fund, the income only of which shall be expended.

VII.

The regular meeting of the General Society shall be held every three years, and special meetings may be held upon the order of the General President or upon the request of two of the State Societies, and such meetings shall consist of two Delegates from each State Society and one additional Delegate for every one hundred (100) members or major fraction thereof; and on all questions arising at meetings of the General Society each Delegate there present shall be entitled to one vote, and no votes shall be taken by States, and the necessary expenses of such meeting shall be borne by the State Societies.

VIII.

At the regular meeting, a General President, General Vice-President, General Second Vice-President, General Secretary, Assistant General Secretary, General Treasurer, Assistant General Treasurer, General Registrar, General Historian and General Chaplain shall be chosen by a majority of the votes present, to serve until the next regular General meeting, or until their successors are duly chosen.

IX.

At each general meeting the circular letters which have been transmitted by the several State Societies shall be considered, and all measures taken which shall conduce to the general welfare of the Society.

X.

The General Society shall have power at any meeting to admit State Societies thereto, and to entertain and determine all questions affecting the qualifications for membership in or the welfare of any State Society as may, by proper memorial, be presented by such State Society for consideration.

XI.

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years, of good character, and a descendant of one who, as a military, naval, or marine officer, soldier, sailor, or marine, in actual service, under the authority of any of the thirteen Colonies or States or of the Continental Congress, and remaining always loyal to such authority, or a descendant of one who signed the Declaration of Independence, or of one who, as a member of the Continental Congress or of the Congress of any of the Colonies or States, or as an official appointed by or under the authority of any such legislative bodies, actually assisted in the establishment of American Independence by services rendered during the War of the Revolution, becoming thereby liable to conviction of treason against the Government of Great Britain, but remaining always loyal to the authority of the Colonies or States, shall be eligible to membership in the Society.

XII.

The Secretary of each State Society shall transmit to the General Secretary a list of the members thereof, together with the names and official designations of those from whom such members derive claim to membership, and thereafter upon the admission of members in each State Society, the Secretary thereof shall transmit to the General Secretary information respecting such members similar to that herein required.

XIII.

The Society shall have an insignia, which shall be a badge suspended from a ribbon by a ring of gold; the badge to be elliptical in form, with scalloped edges, one and one-quarter inches in length, and one and one-eighth inches in width; the whole surmounted by a gold eagle, with wings displayed, inverted; on the obverse side a medallion of gold in the center, elliptical in form, bearing on its face the figure of a soldier in Continental uniform, with musket slung; beneath, the figures 1775; the medallion surrounded by thirteen raised gold stars of five points each upon a border of dark blue enamel. On the reverse side, in the center, a medallion corresponding in form to that on the obverse, and also in gold, bearing on its face the Houdon portrait of Washington in bas-relief, encircled by the legend, "Sons of the Revolution"; beneath, the figures 1883; and upon the reverse of the eagle the number of the badge to be engraved; the medallion to be surrounded by a plain gold border, conforming in dimensions to the obverse; the ribbon shall be dark blue, ribbed and watered, edged with buff, one and one-quarter inches wide, and one and one-half inches in displayed length.

XIV.

The insignia of the Society shall be worn by the members on all occasions when they assemble as such for any stated purpose or celebration, and may be worn on any occasion of ceremony; it shall be carried conspicuously on the left breast, but members who are or have been officers of the Society may wear the insignia suspended from the ribbon around the neck.

XV.

The custodian of the insignia shall be the General Secretary, who shall issue them to members of the Society under such proper rules as may be formulated by the General Society, and he shall keep a register of such issues wherein each insignia issued may be identified by the number thereof.

XVI.

The seal of the Society shall be one and seven-eighth inches in diameter, and shall consist of the figure of a Minute-man in Continental uniform, standing on a ladder leading to a belfry; in his left hand he holds a musket and an olive branch, whilst his right grasps a bell-rope; above, the cracked Liberty Bell; issuing therefrom a ribbon bearing the motto of the Society, Exegi monumentum aere perennius; across the top of the ladder, on a ribbon, the figures 1776; and on the left of the Minute-man, and also on a ribbon, the figures 1883, the year of the formation of the Society; the whole encircled by a band three-eighths of one inch wide; thereon at the top thirteen stars of five points each; at the bottom the name of the General Society, or of the State Society to which the seal belongs.
